

My wife and I are in favor of keeping the most restrictive New Jersey do not call list rules in effect. The list has greatly improved our quality of life by preventing annoying telephone solicitations. They had become a serious intrusion of our privacy, but with the national and state do not call lists they have virtually stopped. This peace of mind is not something we would want to lose.